Red flags (1)

MEDIUM Employer / sponsor differs between the documents

The document values differ. Confirm against the original documents and issuing authority. A sponsor may be an intermediary; ask for evidence explaining its relationship to the offered employer.

Government visa status: not checked

Official issuance, authenticity and work permission have not been confirmed. Opening the official page does not change this status.

Official source	Qatar Ministry of Interior — Visa Inquiry & Printing
Official link	https://portal.moi.gov.qa/wps/portal/MOIInternet/services/inquiries/visaservices/enquiryandprinting

1. Open the official MOI page and choose visa number or passport number.
2. Enter the number and nationality directly on the government page, then complete its verification code.
3. Compare the returned holder, sponsor, visa type and validity details with your documents. If the record is unavailable or differs, ask the issuing authority for clarification.
4. Opening this link does not verify your visa in this app. Do not enter passport details on a lookalike website.

Checks that could not run

- Government visa validity and authenticity were not checked. Complete the official lookup yourself.
- Visa-number issuance formats and security features have not been authenticated. A readable number is not proof of issuance.
- This module compares labelled offer fields; it does not run a full employer, agency or offer-letter investigation.
- PDF editing observations: not available for image or text uploads.

What to do

- Complete the official government lookup before paying or travelling.
- Confirm the holder and passport details against the original passport without sharing it unnecessarily.
- Ask the employer to explain any sponsor or job-title difference using independently sourced contact details.
- Use the offer-letter checker separately for employer, agency and recruitment-scam checks.

This is an automated risk assessment, not a legal verdict. A low score does not guarantee an offer is real - always confirm directly with the employer through contact details you find yourself. Online copy of this report: http://localhost:3000/report/6ae33e257ba27f7c5b33e19a
